Language Assessment

EF International Language Campuses

Riccardo Morini

Studied at EF Miami and reached C1

Understanding and Listening - The student can :

Understand extended speech even when it is not clearly structured and when relationships are only implied and not signalled explicitly.
Understand television programmes and films without too much effort.

Reading - The student can :

Understand long and complex factual and literary texts, appreciating distinction of style. Understand specialised articles and longer technical instructions, even when they do not relate to a known field.

Spoken Interaction - The student can :

Speak fluently and spontaneously without much searching for expressions. Use language flexibly and effectively for social and professional purposes. Formulate ideas and opinions with precision and relate contributions skilfully to those of other speakers.

Spoken Production - The student can :

Present clear, detailed descriptions of complex subjects, developing points and rounding off with an appropriate conclusion.

Writing - The student can :

Write clear, well-structured text, expressing points of view at some length. Write about complex subjects in letters, essays, and reports stressing ideas. Select style appropriate to target reader.
